GREETING

Happy Valentine's Day and welcome to the 67th Annual Writers Guild Awards! What better way is there to celebrate February 14th than dining, drinking and hearing speeches? Perhaps tonight will inspire a scene in the world's next great romantic comedy. Or maybe a few of those awards will work as aphrodisiacs. Who knows? It's a night for celebrating writing and romance.

We're happy to be back at the elegant Edison Ballroom with its own romantic and colorful history. The Edison got its start as a music club in the 1930s, featuring Swing bands. Then, in the 1990s it became The Supper Club, hosting everyone from Bob Dylan to Tony Bennett. In the interim, it was the Edison Theatre, home to many Broadway shows, including the infamous "Oh! Calcutta!" a show which has absolutely nothing in common with tonight's awards. We hope.

We're thrilled that you're here to celebrate some of the best work that our members have produced in the past year. But don't let this be your only way of engaging with the Writers Guild. We encourage you to become involved with the WGAE's committees and caucuses as well as its activities and organizing campaigns.

Congratulations to all tonight's winners and nominees. I'd like to give my heartfelt appreciation to our brilliant host Larry Wilmore and all our presenters. I'd also like to thank the show's amazing Executive Producer John Marshall and the rest of our writing team, the incredibly dedicated Awards Committee and tireless WGAE staff, particularly Marsha Seeman, Dana Weissman, Nancy Hathorne and Jason Gordon, the crew, all tonight's volunteers, my fellow Council members, my very patient husband Chris and everyone else involved in making tonight's show possible.

Enjoy the food, drink up and have a great time!

In Solidarity,

Bonnie Datt
Chair, WGAE Awards Committee

"Journalists should do away with cookie-cutter narratives and instead reveal real lives and real emotions. That kind of reporting allows a reader to peer into another's heart and understand humanity better. And that kind of reporting challenges minds and inspires hope."

Liz Essley Whyte, SOC MA '15, Center for Public Integrity Fellow

Dean Jeffrey Rutenbeck and the faculty, staff, and students of the American University School of Communication congratulate Liz Essley Whyte. Our programs have been producing outstanding journalists for more than 80 years, providing a strong foundation in writing, reporting, editing, audio, and video storytelling across multiple platforms.

Writers Guild Initiative

We are excited to support the development of your comedy NED about a flesh-eating extra-terrestrial from pitch to full script this year!

The MCMF, funded by the Charles and Lucille King Family Foundation, (kingfoundation.org) and presented in partnership with the Writers Guild Initiative is awarded to an undergraduate senior who plans to pursue a career in screenwriting upon graduation. The recipient receives a $10,000 stipend to write an original screenplay under the mentorship of a prominent screenwriter.

The Writers Guild Initiative exists to take the art and craft of storytelling to underserved communities, to empower them through the written word to find their voice and tell their story.
