GREETING

WELCOME TO THE 71ST ANNUAL WRITERS GUILD AWARDS!

The Writers Guild Awards are about elevating the words of writers—as they should be, because they are the foundation of our industry. And tonight's show is one of the only times of the year when writers from all the genres that the Writers Guild of America, East represents—both news and entertainment—get to congregate together in one place and celebrate each other's talent and ingenuity.

We're happy to be back at the Edison Ballroom for the sixth time, as we continue to add to this venue's colorful history. The Edison got its start as a music club in the 1930s, featuring the era's top Swing bands. Then, in the 1990s it briefly became The Supper Club, hosting everyone from Tony Bennett to David Bowie. In the interim, it was the Edison Theatre, home to many Broadway shows, including the infamous "Oh! Calcutta!"

I'm thrilled that you're here to celebrate at our annual event, but as someone who is also a member of the WGAE's Council, I want to urge you to not let this be your only way of engaging with the Guild. I encourage you to become involved with the WGAE's committees and caucuses as well as its career training sessions, activities and organizing campaigns.

My deepest congratulations to all tonight's winners and nominees. I'd like to give my heartfelt appreciation to our brilliant host and all our presenters. I'd also like to thank my amazing Co-Executive Producer, Shannon Walker, the show's incredible Head Writer, Ann Cohen and the rest of our talented writing team, as well as our dedicated Awards Committee and tireless WGAE staff, particularly Marsha Seeman, Dana Weissman, Nancy Hathorne, Jenna Bond, Molly Beer and Jason Gordon, the crew, all tonight's volunteers, my fellow Council members, my very patient husband Chris and everyone else involved in making tonight's show possible.

In Solidarity,

Bonnie Datt
Chair, WGAE Awards Committee

Writing should not be a dangerous profession.

People who help us figure out the world by crafting stories, by describing and analyzing events as they unfold, by making us laugh at the powerful – these people should not be at risk of losing their jobs or their freedom or their lives. But here we are, in 2019, worrying about direct threats to the well-being of writers everywhere, including here at home. Powerful forces of reaction are desperate to control the narrative, even if that means silencing all voices not aligned with their own.

The best way to face down the abuse of power is to build contravening power. Truth is powerful, and so is the collective action of union members. By banding together to advance their rights as creators, writers ensure that their voices can be heard loud and clear throughout their careers. That is what the Writers Guild of America, East is all about.

Tonight, of course, we are all about celebrating our members' best work. Storytelling in so many different genres and sectors and forms and platforms. Storytelling that entertains or enrages or puzzles or enlightens us, or does all of those things at once. We are here to celebrate the astounding skill and passion with which the nominated shows and films and programs were crafted, and the Writers Guild members who worked so hard to realize them.

And of course we are here to enjoy each other's company, to build our community of creative professionals, and to have fun.

After the speeches are done and the bronze statues are handed out and the wine glasses are cleared away, we will keep doing the work that enables members to build sustainable careers. The Guild's members and professionals will be spending a lot of time at the bargaining table over the next year negotiating better pay, protecting benefits, and changing workplace culture. We will examine the changes in the business that affect our members. We will discuss how on-demand viewing patterns might change how everyone works – TV writers and screenwriters alike (and of course for many members that is no longer a meaningful distinction). We will talk more about the effect of short seasons and abbreviated writers rooms on jobs and pay. We will explore how the continued digitization of the news business shapes careers and work-life balance. We will continue our work to ensure that opportunities are available to everyone with the talent to create compelling stories.

WGAE and its members will continue to fight the powerful by telling the truth. Tonight's Awards ceremony confirms that it is possible to do justice and to have fun at the same time.

In Solidarity,

Lowell Peterson
Executive Director

FEBRUARY 17, 2019

Congratulations Ariella Carmell!

The University of Chicago

Winner of the

2019 Michael Collyer Memorial Fellowship in Screenwriting

Writers Guild Initiative

"To be honored with the Michael Collyer Memorial Fellowship is absolutely unbelievable and makes me cry a little (well, a lot) just to think about it. Thank you a million times over to the Writers Guild Initiative, the Collyer family, the Charles and Lucille King Family Foundation, and the Black List for this incredible opportunity, and for believing in me. To my dad, my brother, my grandparents, my entire family, and my dearest friends -- I love you all to bursting and could not have done anything at all without you. But mostly, thank you, Mom: I know you have everything to do with this, my angel. I think of you with every breath." - Ariella Carmell

The MCMFS, funded by the Charles and Lucille King Family Foundation, (kingfoundation.org) and presented in partnership with the Writers Guild Initiative is awarded to an undergraduate senior who plans to pursue a career in screenwriting upon graduation. The recipient receives a $10,000 stipend to write an original screenplay under the mentorship of a prominent screenwriter.

The Writers Guild Initiative works with people from all walks of life to perpetuate the art and craft of storytelling. We empower underserved communities to find their voice and tell their story.

CONGRATULATIONS TOM FONTANA

Ian McClellan Hunter Award for Lifetime Achievement

Tom Fontana

He took stooges and made us writers.
He took writers and made us producers.
He took producers and reminded us that no matter how high we climbed there was still no better showrunner, mentor, friend, or confessor than Tom.

Enough with the Lifetime Achievement
Awards...You're never quitting...and we all know it!

Thank you, Tom, for our careers.

A black and white photograph of Samantha Bee. She is wearing a tiara and a dark blazer over a light-colored top. She has a wide, joyful smile, looking upwards and to the right. Her right hand is raised to her chest with fingers spread, and her left hand holds a large bouquet of dark roses. The background is a simple grey with a diagonal line.

*[Writing starts with] a blank page. It's a blank page, with a blank screen, and it's endlessly possible. You can write anything. I mean, anything. It also makes it really difficult, arduous, terrifying. [But] when it clicks, when it really truly connects... very few things in life feel as good as that.

WRITERS GUILD INITIATIVE
of The WGAE Foundation

The Writers Guild Initiative congratulates
Tom Fontana
on receiving the Ian McLellan Hunter Award for Career Achievement.

Ten years ago, when Tom was a bright young man with a dream in his heart, he jumpstarted the Writers Guild Initiative. Since then we have evolved into a dynamic writer-driven organization, doing writing workshops all over the country with populations whose voices are not being heard. Like whiskey, cheddar cheese, flannel sheets, cast iron skillets, balsamic vinegar, and jeans, Tom has only improved with age.

We love you, Tom.

Dear Tom,

So happy for you.
This is such a well-deserved honor.

Thank you for giving me my first break.

I'm toasting you from LA.

Joy Kecken

Tom,

Many thanks for giving me
