“...Accepting his award on stage at the Edison Ballroom in New York... Bong [Joon Ho] spent most of his podium time thanking each of the nominees in his category. The acclaimed director said that while he’s not familiar with American teenage culture, he really enjoyed Booksmart, and found it beautiful that the two young men at the center of 1917 share love and conversation in the midst of warfare. He then thanked Rian Johnson for crafting a twisty whodunit with Knives Out, and praised Noah Baumbach for his emotional writing in Marriage Story.

ABOUT WRITERS GUILD OF AMERICA, EAST

The Writers Guild of America, East (WGAE) is a labor union of thousands of professionals who are the primary creators of what is seen or heard on television and film in the U.S., as well as the writers of a growing portion of original digital media content. Our members write everything from big budget movies to independent films, late night comedy/variety shows to daytime serials, broadcast and radio news, web series, documentaries, and animation. The WGAE works on their behalf to promote and protect the professional and artistic interests of this diverse community.
