Rules for TV-Radio/Audio-New Media Writing Awards

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for entry, scripts must have been produced under WGA jurisdiction and broadcast or exhibited as follows:

Television & new media motion pictures, episodic, animation, children’s, short form new media, comedy/varity, quiz and audience participation, daytime drama, and on-air promotion categories first broadcast or exhibited between January 1, 2022 and December 31, 2022.

Scripts in the news, documentary, radio/audio and digital news categories must have been produced under WGA jurisdiction and first broadcast or exhibited between November 1, 2021 and October 31, 2022.

Programs written under the Writers Guild of Canada agreement pursuant to Working Rule #8 waivers or Sideletter Agreements are not eligible. Nominations will be based on outstanding achievement. If no script in a category is deemed outstanding, no nomination or award will be made. If there are insufficient entries in any category, those entries may be placed in another category.

WHICH SCRIPT SHOULD BE SUBMITTED?

If two or more writers are credited, they may agree upon the draft to be submitted, but if they are unable to agree, then the “as broadcast” script will be the only one to be considered. If one writer is credited, he/she must submit a draft which contains substantially his/her own writing. See “Special Instructions” for animation on page 2. You may submit in one, several or all categories, but not more than one script in any single category.

No writer may submit a script if his/her credit does not reflect at least 50 percent of the on-screen credit. In the case of three or more credited writers, they may “pool” their percentage of the script to arrive at 50 percent if they have not submitted another script. Each member of an established two-member team may submit one team-written script (or one sole-credit script) in each category. On-screen writing credit percentages are calculated as follows: Written by = 100%; Teleplay by = 75%; Story by = 25%.

A television project is not eligible if it had a previous theatrical exhibition.
WRITER REPRESENTATIVES' SUBMISSIONS

Writer representatives (e.g., agents, managers and publicists) may submit scripts on behalf of their clients, provided that they have sought permission from the writer to submit on his or her behalf.

ONLINE SUBMISSIONS

Writers may submit scripts online for competition in any category by going to www.wga.org and clicking on the awards link in the spotlight section. Follow the instructions to complete the entry form online, then upload the script in either Word or PDF format where indicated. Please delete all references to the name of the submitting writer(s) within the script. Writers’ names should only appear on the title page. Watermarked scripts will not be accepted. Upon successful completion of the submission, a receipt will be automatically sent to the preferred email address.

Members who wish to submit multiple scripts for judging in different categories must complete separate entry forms for each script submitted online. Example: a writer may enter an Animation script in Category 2 and may also enter an Episodic Drama script in Category 3.

THE JUDGING PROCEDURE

The preliminary judging will be by panels of volunteer Guild members. Scripts will be coded and anonymity maintained. The final judging will be by special panels of Guild members selected for their prominence in the particular fields of competition. See “Special Instructions” for Animation.

SEND IN YOUR ENTRIES EARLY

The greater the number of entries submitted, the more representative the final choices will be. Remember, awards will be based strictly on your written material. Send in your entries now. The deadline is November 18, 2022.

Winners will be announced at the 2023 WGA Awards on March 5, 2023.
SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS

CATEGORIES

#1 TELEVISION & NEW MEDIA MOTION PICTURES

A television or new media motion picture is a motion picture, over one hour in length, which is broadcast on network or cable television or exhibited on a streaming service. New media motion pictures that have had a theatrical release or that have a simultaneous theatrical release and streaming exhibition are not eligible.

Television and new media motion pictures classified as Original or Adapted are eligible to compete in Category 1. Writers of source material are not eligible for awards consideration.

Scripts produced and initially exhibited in the made-for-videocassette/DVD market will be eligible if they are next shown on television or exhibited on new media (i.e., there has been no previous theatrical exhibition).

Long form animated motion pictures must be entered in Category #2. Long form children’s scripts must be entered in Category #9.

Multi-part episodes of Episodic Drama and Episodic Comedy series must be entered in Category #3 or #4.

#2 ANIMATION — Any length, one airing or exhibition time

To be eligible for entry, television and new media animation scripts must be broadcast or exhibited for the first time between January 1, 2022, and December 31, 2022 and must have been written and produced under WGA jurisdiction.

The submitted script must be in a standard teleplay format – it need not be the final script. A recording script may be submitted for consideration if it is a full script of the program or episode. In addition, the episode as broadcast from which the script is submitted must have had a writing credit (i.e., a “written by” or a “story by” and “teleplay by” credit, as appropriate) related to the writing of the program or episode. While there is no limit on the number of credited writers a particular program or episode may have, gang credits – not specifically tied to the writing on the episode – are not acceptable.
A writer (or each member of an established team) may submit only one (1) script in the Animation category. The script may be of any length or type (i.e., long form original, long form adaptation, specials or episodic). Scripts produced and initially exhibited in the made-for-video market will be eligible if they are next shown on television or exhibited on new media (i.e., there has been no previous theatrical exhibition). Animated children’s scripts must be entered in category #2. Animated new media scripts must be entered in category #2.

If two or more writers are credited, they may agree upon the draft to be submitted, but if they are unable to agree, then the “as broadcast” script will be the only script to be considered. If one writer is credited, he or she must submit a draft containing substantially his or her own writing.

#3 EPISODIC DRAMA and #4 EPISODIC COMEDY

Television: Approximately one hour or less, one airing time (synopsis, if any, permitted for remainder).

New media: Over 15 minutes in length but not to exceed one hour (approximately); one exhibition time (synopsis, if any, permitted for remainder).

No writer may submit a script if his/her credit does not reflect at least 50 percent of the on-screen credit. In the case of three or more credited writers, they may “pool” their percentage of the script to arrive at 50 percent if they have not submitted another script. Each member of an established two-member team may submit one team-written script (or one sole-credit script) in each category. Multi-part Episodic Dramas originally broadcast or exhibited as more than one hour must be entered in category #3; Multi-part Episodic Comedies originally broadcast or exhibited as over 30 minutes must be entered in category #4.

A Pilot Script must be entered in category #3 or #4, regardless of broadcast or exhibition length.

Anthology Episode/Single Episode scripts (one hour or less—one part, one airing or exhibition time) must be entered in category #3 or #4.
