

February 8, 2023

We are members of the Writers Guild of America (WGA), who write and create scripted programs for NBCU and other studios. We support our fellow Guild-represented writers and producers at MSNBC who have been fighting for over a year to win a reasonable first contract. They are fully dedicated to the important work they do for NBCU and they deserve to be paid - and treated - fairly.

When they work long hours or long weeks, when they work night hours or stand by ready to write and produce on a moment's notice, when they perform the duties of people at higher pay grades, they deserve extra pay.

Our colleagues are fighting for what we all need - meaningful protections set forth in a collective bargaining agreement. We call on management to recognize the contributions of the Guild-represented employees at MSNBC by agreeing to a fair contract that includes the pay and protections they deserve.

In solidarity,
