

March 21, 2023

As WGA members in scripted film and television, we stand in solidarity with our colleagues at Hearst Magazines – including Best Products, Bicycling, Car and Driver, Cosmopolitan, Country Living, Delish, ELLE, ELLE Décor, Esquire, Food Network Magazine, Good Housekeeping, Harper's BAZAAR, HGTV Magazine, House Beautiful, Men's Health, Oprah Daily, The Pioneer Woman, Popular Mechanics, Prevention, Road & Track, Runner's World, Seventeen, Town & Country, Veranda, Woman's Day, and Women's Health – as they bargain their first union contract.

Film, television, and other parts of the media and entertainment industries have long been unionized because creative workers fought for a seat at the table to negotiate fair wages, good benefits, and just working conditions. Hearst occupies considerable space in the media industry – with key television channels, stations, newspapers, and magazines -- and our industry is watching.

We call on the company to immediately agree to a union contract that lives up to its status as a leader in this industry.

In solidarity,
